Darum geht's:

Cameron Highlands is home to many tea plantations, as well as strawberry and vegetable farms, jungle trails, cascading waterfalls and flower gardens. Much of the highlands' character remains unchanged, exuding an old English charm. Cameron Highlands Resort, surrounded by breathtaking scenery, lush rolling hills, Tudor-styled cottages and with a view of the 18-hole golf course, is perfectly situated for explorations and invigorating countryside hikes.

Set 1,500 metres above sea level in a forested mountain scape, Cameron Highlands Resort is built as a long extension from an existing 1930's cottage with architecture dating from the 1070's. Offering splendour, romance and nostalgia, the interiors hark back to its grand colonial heritage with tall French doors, timber-beamed ceilings and plantation shutters combined with the colours and textures of Jim Thompson's famed Asian silks.

Aktivitäten

Signature Picnic Experience

This exclusive experience, crafted specially in conjunction with BOH Plantations begins with an odyssey to the Boh Tea Centre in Sungei Palas. Here, guests are escorted on an idyllic walk through the tea bushes to learn how tea is produced, followed by a tour of a working tea factory. Next, a tea tasting session cultivates appreciation of the brew by outlining the different grades, flavours and characteristics of the tea produced by BOH. The highlight of this tea journey is a sumptuous picnic spread laid out al fresco in the heart of the tea plantation, allowing guests a panoramic view of the lush tea valley.

Tea Plantation

No trip to Cameron Highlands would be complete without visiting the local tea plantations. In 1929, John Archibald Russell, who was the son of a British administrative officer started a tea plantation which is now the famous BOH Tea Plantation. Later, other tea plantations were established in Cameron Highlands, namely the Bharat and Blue Valley plantations.

BOH Tea Plantation estate is wonderfully manicured and visitors are welcome to view the factory production process and enjoy a 'cuppa' at the tea shop, part of a new visitors' centre which provides spectacular views of the plantation. The view of tea trees grown on terraces following the contours of the hill will take your breath away.

Waterfalls and Nature Trails

For adventure seekers or pure nature lovers, a walk in the mountains should be on the agenda. The peaks offer a magnificent view of the highlands together with its enchanting mossy forest. There are plenty of jungle walks of varying difficulty and distance to satisfy your interest. Two of them lead to the popular Parit Waterfall and Robinson Waterfall near Tanah Rata. The most popular mountains for hiking are Gunung Brinchang and Gunung Beremban.

Night Market

'Pasar Malam' or the Night Market is a place that you should not miss when you are in Brinchang and Tanah Rata. Every Friday and Saturday, peddlers will gather at 4.00 p.m. to set up their little stalls offering you an intriguing variety of souvenirs, vegetables and fruits, plants, cactus, indigenous people's handicrafts and weapons, food and many other things. They are open even during public holidays.
